DEFENDS ENDEAVORERS

No Mincing of Words in Doctor Lee's Answer.

BEAUTIES OF THE MOVEMENT

Set Forth by the Eloquent Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church—Sharp Sarcasm For Those Who Criticize the Society. Together With a Pundit of Facts.

MR. EDITOR:—I have been very much interested in the Christian Endeavor discussion in your paper. I would not raise my voice were it not that you and Mr. "Presbyterian" have had it all your own way, and that, I believe I shall show, is the misleading way. I also wish a word because the last sentence of Mr. "Presbyterian's" article will doubtless lead many to believe that he is a minister, and because it has already been laid at my door. May I say, once for all, that when I talk through the papers about subjects so important it will be over my name.

First, in regard to your editorial. It is apt to mislead the thoughtless, as it has misled Mr. Presbyterian. That there are a few ministers in the Presbyterian church who are not friendly to the Christian Endeavor is a fact, but that the number is very small everyone who cares to inform himself knows. Seven hundred is the highest number the greatly-exaggerated newspaper report gives. And of these not one name is given. Mr. Presbyterian follows in the same line, and does not give his name. I know you refer to the 700 as those who are kept out of pulpits by the Christian Endeavor. Still they are in the main supposed to be the objects. Only one man of any prominence in the Presbyterian church has come out in an open way against the Christian Endeavor. I refer to Doctor McKibbin of Cincinnati, and so much did he find himself alone that the matter has long since lost all semblance of controversy. There is therefore no controversy in the church today over the matter. Now Mr. Editor if anyone has anything definite about this poor, nameless, fatherless newspaper report from Boston let us have it. If it is a cause worthy of any time and attention someone ought to be willing to become a martyr if need be.

Now a word about Mr. Presbyterian.

Mr. Editor, you give matter as a stray newspaper report and do not pretend to father it. Mr. Presbyterian swallows it whole, and in perfect keeping with such a light dinner he begins to talk of the whole scheme as a "boom and bubble," so attenuated that it must soon burst. No wonder he talks about the Boston boarding houses and begrudges them the few pennies they make, and the Christian Endeavorers the good dinners they eat and pay for out of their own pockets. Any man would who feeds so greedily on newspaper reports. Furthermore he has been in darkness. Day or night "is beginning to dawn." This will excuse perhaps this whole mistaken article. Now for a few facts.

First—It is denied by all Christian Endeavor workers (and they give their names) that it is a scheme to congregationalize any church, as says Mr. "Presbyterian." Again, it has not proved to be in the general working. It may be so in a few cases, but that is local, not general, and is not the fault of the movement, but of the local society. He charges this as the motive. That is a serious charge. I should like to see it proven.

Second—He speaks of the whole matter as a money making scheme to the boarding houses, newspapers and railroads. I am surprised at any Presbyterian who believes in our General Assembly talking so, for the same objections may be urged against our venerable body. Perhaps this good brother who feeds on newspaper reports expects everybody else to do the same, which, of course, will render boarding houses unnecessary. A sufficient answer to all this is in the fact that the executive committee of the Christian Endeavor refused the flattering request to change the headquarters to Chicago, for which the Christian Endeavor would receive $5,000 each year for three years.

The answer was that they do not intend making the headquarters more than a mere bureau of information, so they did not consider the offer for a moment. In addition to all this, the going is perfectly voluntary, the fare is usually one-half the regular rate, each one pays his own expenses. No one has a right to carp about this surely.

Third—Hired orators and subsidized papers in large numbers can be compensated by funds collected, etc. Now Mr. Presbyterian let us have the proof of this. I have had much to do with the Christian Endeavor in larger and smaller meetings, and never so far as I know, is an orator paid, or a paper subsidized. This has never before so far as I know been even charged on the Christian Endeavor. If it is true I wish it proven. The fact is there is no fund from which to pay orators. All service is gratis.

Fourth—"The Presbyterians are always a little slow" says one brother, that is, I may add, those who have been in the darkness and on whom the "light is beginning to dawn."

In answer to this let me give the following:

First—The Presbyterians were among the first to try the strictly denominational work in the Westminster league and it has not proven so successful as the Christian Endeavorers.

Second—The presbyteries of our church nearly all over the land have given direct sanction to the Christian Endeavor as a function of our church, and the Christian Endeavor has been unflinchingly loyal to the denomination, as shown by the late action at Boston.

Third, Nearly all the boards of the church appeal for collections through the presbyterial committees to the Christian Endeavor for money. One of the committees in our Steubenville presbytery is now asking our First church East Liverpool society for over $100—I think the amount is $137. This is true nearly all over the United States. Is that not recognition? Beside this, a very large number of presbyteries have special committees on Christian Endeavor work. I know the general assembly has such a committee.

Fourth, The Presbyterian church has more societies in the Christian Endeavor than any other denomination, I am told. The number of Presbyterian societies is $552 and the members of these number nearly 500,000. A large number of the speakers at every Christian Endeavor rally are Presbyterians. Does this look as though we are "always a little slow," or were in it with a "scheme to congregationalize" our church?

If any one still doubts that the Christian Endeavor society is at peace and harmony with the Presbyterian church, let me urge a copy of the late action in Boston which speaks loudly enough to satisfy all.

"We do hereby give sincere and explicit expression to our loyalty to the beloved communion, within which we have our church home. We are firmly convinced that in so doing we express the sentiments of the 8,552 societies which we represent, with their membership of nearly 500,000 young Presbyterian Christians. We gratefully note that the General Assembly of 1895, convened in Pittsburgh, appointed a committee to consider the relations of young people's societies to the church, and as this committee wish information touching Christian Endeavor work, we hereby authorize the chairman to appoint a committee of nine to gather facts to submit to the assembly's committee and to co-operate therewith as far as may be desired in any service."

Yours very truly,
JOHN LLOYD LEE.

TO PROTECT DEW DROP.

The Fire Department Think Diamond Plugs Are Too Far Away.

A fire plug is today being placed near the fire station, so close that a hose can be attached in very few minutes, and a stream of water sent into Dew Drop alley, which is always considered dangerous. Prior to the present arrangement the company would have to go to the Diamond for water, and valuable time would have been lost. These things cost money, but they give better protection.

WILL RACE THIS FALL.

Another Liverpool Boy Who Seeks Glory on the Track.

Ted Cox is arranging to train on the East End track and will be hard at work when his new racing wheel arrives.

He intends to enter a number of the races at the meets in the surrounding towns and as he has already shown considerable speed it is predicted that he will make a name for himself among the wheelmen.

A STOCK COMPANY.

Why Can't the Streets be Cleaned in That Way?

"If the authorities will not keep the streets clean what is to prevent a stock company from doing it," said a business man today. "The money could be invested in a sweeper and a garbage furnace, and under contract with the city these troublesome questions could be settled. It would only take a small investment, and the return would be bounteous."

DEATH LURKS IN DIRT

Danger In Allowing the Streets to Be Unclean.

DUST CARRIES AROUND DISEASE

Scattering the Germ Everywhere—Transports It From Sick to Well—Places the Health of a City In Danger—An Expert Opinion of No Little Value.

East Liverpool is not New York, but the same conditions in this city will produce the same results as in the metropolis. The Medical Journal is an authority, and its word can be taken as honest truth. For that reason there is more than ordinary interest in the following article which recently appeared:

"Let us first consider what we know about the dangers of dirt. We know, beyond all question, that certain disease-producing bacteria flourish in filth. We know, also, that at least one species (the most deadly of all when the absolute number of its victims are considered,) the bacillus tuberculosis, is carried in the form of dust from the sick to the healthy, and that it is a frequent constituent of street dust. These things we know, and Doctor Prudden has shown that street dust, literally swarming with bacteria, is frequently carried high in the air. We know also that city dust is in large part composed of the excreta of horses and other animals, and we are surely not without reason in asserting that the inhalation of powdered horse dung and other excrement, mixed with various substances which have been more or less soaked with horses' urine and that of other animals and, further, mixed with the dried excretion of numerous human beings in various stages of disease or health, together with fragments of different kinds of filth, is disgusting and extremely likely to be injurious to health. Almost equally disgusting is it to carry this unspeakable mixture with us into our houses in the form of mud upon the clothing. The fact that in hot weather, when the windows are open, the filth makes of itself a portion of our meals, which, though not mentioned in the bill of fare, is served with more or less profusion gratis with every portion of food, is an additional reason for objecting to dirty streets; and our objections become stronger when we think how often, at all seasons of the year, it must contaminate the milk supplied to little children and invalids.

"It is not infrequently asserted that we have no absolute proof that, as a matter of fact, disease is caused by city dirt. This is quite true, but can any sane man deny that there are strong reasons to believe that disease is produced by pathogenic bacteria contained in this dirt? We know that the bacillus tuberculosis is capable of distribution with dust, and it is quite possible that the same is true of a number of other disease germs. Whether or not pathogenic bacteria are thus distributed, no one can deny that such dust is injurious to the respiratory organs, and it must be remembered that upon any one who asserts that the introduction of filth such as this into the body is harmless rests the burden of proof of his assertion quite as much as it would had he stated that it was harmful."

If unclean streets in New York create disease and place human life in danger, the same is true of Liverpool. If dangerous germs fly about in the dust scooped up by the wind, it is a matter of surprise that the whole city has not long since died from that cause. It is more than a plausible theory, and Liverpool might test the effect by a thorough cleaning.

TO FORM A COMPANY.

The Electrical Separator May Be Manufactured Here.

Whitacre & Wolf, the Wellsville inventors, propose to put their electric separator on the market, and hope to form a company that will introduce electricity in the potteries, and in a measure revolutionize the present system of making ware.

Professor Wolf last week secured patents on an engine which will be worked in connection with the machine, and bring electricity to the jolly and the jigger. By this arrangement the dynamo will be fastened to the shaft of the engine, thus doing away with belt-ing, and the economy of space as well as the economy of money will commend itself at once. Wires can be run to the separate machines, switchboards can be put in, and every man will be his own engineer, working his machine as fast or as slow as he desires. By a device added to the separator within the past few days it is made automatic. When the power, from any one of a dozen reasons, is off, the electro-magnet loses its power and releases a small arrangement which sounds a gong to tell the operator the valve is closed and the slip filled with iron is not mingling with the clay from which it has been taken. A party of Wellsville officials and business men, and a number of Liverpool potters, saw the device tested again last night and pronounced it a success in every way.

The project on hand at present is the formation of a company to manufacture the separator and place it on the market. The patentees want the factory located here or in Wellsville if possible, and a movement is now on foot looking to the organization of the concern. If they decide to build engines and dynamos in connection with the separator it will form an institution giving employment to a large number of men. Already a number of outside parties are after the patent and one pottery wants the exclusive right to use it for six months. There are 500 potteries and 4000 pipe works in the country, and it is believed none can afford to be without the system when it is inaugurated in one. If the company is formed here the projectors will at once arrange for the building of the factory.

ON A LONG JOURNEY.

John B. Thomas Is Traveling Around the World.

John B. Thomas, a cripple who cannot use his legs, arrived in the city this morning on his journey around the world. The man has a chair mounted on three rubber-tired wheels, and by a simple arrangement works it with his hands. He claims to have covered 1,400 miles in this way, and says he will complete the circuit of the globe, provided he lives. He can walk by the aid of crutches, and these are placed close to him on the tricycle. He says he is doing the task on a wager, having started from Evansville, Ind., without a cent. Thomas is intelligent and cheerful, and thinks he will have little difficulty in winning the bet. He is a printer and is earning the $500 he must have at the end of the journey by setting type. He leaves tomorrow for Pittsburgh, and hopes to reach New York in time to sail for Liverpool in October.

GENERAL MORGAN'S SABER.

It Is Now Carefully Preserved In Wellsville.

In the cellar of Harvey Whitacre's handsome home in Wellsville hangs an old rusty saber, but it is one of Mr. Whitacre's most cherished possessions. It is the sword which Morgan, the raider, carried when he was captured that hot August day so long ago. The general and his staff took dinner in the old Whitacre's house, and when they departed a silver spur and sword were left behind. There are no marks on the weapon to prove its identity, and it is nothing more than the ordinary cavalry saber. A piece of leather showing the marks of battle still hangs to one of the rings.

AFTER INFORMATION.

Council Preparing For a Gas Ordinance.

Acting under the instruction of councilmen, Clerk Hanley has been sending letters to surrounding cities for the purpose of securing copies of their gas ordinances. One has already arrived from Wheeling, and others will follow. It is generally believed around city hall that the next meeting will see a new ordinance introduced and passed, and the only delay is caused by a desire for information. It is whispered around that the next ordinance will be complete in every particular.

IS JOHN CREEPS DEAD?

East End People Do Not Believe the Report.

John Creeps, an East End baker, went to a Pittsburgh hospital several months ago suffering from blood poison, and the report is now current that he is dead. Friends do not believe the report, although he was known to be in a dangerous condition. They think he certainly had some relatives who would claim his clothes and outfit, but nothing of that sort has yet been done. They sincerely hope this story is untrue, as he was a popular young man.

BURIED TOMORROW.

The Remains of Mrs. McQuilken Taken to Summitville.

Brief funeral services will be held this morning at the late residence of Mrs. McQuilken, of Fifth street, Doctor Lee, assisted by Reverend Taggart, conducting them. The remains were taken to Summitville, and the funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. McQuilken's father tomorrow at 2 o'clock, with interment in Lebanon church. Doctor Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Swaney, Mrs. Gaston and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Smith will drive from this city.

HE FELL OUT OF A BOAT

When Taken From the River Below Lythe's

ROHLAN WAS A DEAD MAN

He Was Looking After a Line and Lost His Balance—A Wife and Three Children Are Left—Drowned in Four Feet of Water, With Two Boys as Witnesses.

A few minutes after 6 o'clock yesterday evening Oliver Pinkerton was standing on the West Virginia shore looking across to Ohio. The scene was a peaceful one, no moving object being in sight except a man in a boat. Slowly he pulled the craft along, one hand holding a fishing line stretched in the river. After he had proceeded a distance he rose as though to take a firmer hold upon the line, and the next moment, losing his balance, fell into the water. Pinkerton was too far away to be of any service, but he noticed that only a succession of ripples followed the fall, and knew the man was dead.

But the accident had been witnessed by another person, a small boy at a house near Driven-From-Home, who breathlessly informed the people that Edward Rohlan had been drowned. A boat was quickly manned by Jacob Ridinger, Albert Peterson, Reese Rohlan and Hugh Hughes, and the body was recovered without difficulty in four feet of water. They at once rolled him on a barrel, but life was gone, and Doctor McCarroll was called from Wellsville. As the man lived in Liverpool township, Squire Morley was notified, and soon reached the scene. He viewed the body as it lay on the beach, and after giving notice that the inquest would be held this afternoon came home.

Rohlan was a Swede, 34 years of age, and married. He worked at the rolling mill and drank, although it is not shown that he was under the influence of liquor when he met death. He leaves a wife and three small children, in addition to a brother, who also works in the mill. The body was left on the beach until Squire Manley arrived, and when he left the friends had decided to hold a post mortem examination. Rohlan lived near to where the accident occurred.

This is the first drowning in this vicinity so far this season. There have been several narrow escapes, but Rohlan was the first unfortunate to give up his life.

LOOKED LIKE A FOX.

But Was Only a Bundle of Old Rags.

When Isaac Shamp was cleaning out the sewer on Thompson hill yesterday he found the cause of the stoppage, and thought at first he had fallen upon a petrified fox. It was a mass with what seemed to be feet and a tail, but closer inspection showed it a mass of roots. A single spot in the sewer was left uncemented, and through this the roots grew by the hundred. Many were no thicker than hairs, but they were so interlocked as to form the best brand of obstruction that has ever yet been found in the sewers of the city.

A TWISTED NAIL.

The Miscreant Who Punctures Tires Has a New Plan.

The miscreant who is puncturing bicycle tires by placing tacks and pins on the street, has adopted a new plan. Tacks are too small to make a large hole, and the pins occasionally failed, but not to be cheated in his devilish work he has adopted a new plan. This time he sharpens a wire nail and bends it so it will remain in an upright position. Then he places it on the street, and waits. One rider was caught in this way today. The chap should be given the limit of the new ordinance if he is caught.

FLED TO THE WOODS.

An East End Man Whipped His Wife and Ran Away.

An East End man named Duke was enjoying himself in the amusement of whipping his wife this morning when neighbors sent in an alarm. The patrol made the run as soon as possible, but Duke heard it coming, and running through the back door escaped to the woods. An effort was made to find him, but he succeeded in getting such a start that he was not overtaken. The woman was not badly hurt, but her brutal husband had left marks that will not be forgotten in a day.

Some Settlements.

The rumor is current that the street railway officials have already settled with parties injured in the recent accident, and the number of prospective suits has been lessened. Some who have not recovered will not talk business until they get well.

Does it look like political war when Foraker and McKinley are to speak from the same platform in Springfield?

A LEADING Prohibitionist announces at Columbus that he will do all in his power to have the Populists work hand in glove with his party this year. A good combination. Let them fuse, and the principal parties can fight the battle on their own ground.

CLEVELAND'S administration is making our Uncle Sam a dead beat, for the government is only paying the bills it is compelled to pay. The deficit is growing so rapidly that moneys are only paid out when the officials of the treasury department are pushed to the wall.

WHAT will the Democrats do for campaign material this year? John Martin is no longer at Lisbon silently listening to their libelous attacks; they dare not prate about decreased tariff bringing increased wages, and the "labor crusher" issue has long since passed its era of usefulness. Verily, it is a painful prospect for the journalistic end of the party.

In spite of repeated warning the war department has again allowed the massacre of innocent women and children by Indians who have been known for several months as deep in preparation for the warpath. There is no excuse for this sort of thing. It is a disgrace to the nation. In the past it has occurred repeatedly. While scheming politicians are devoting time and attention to personal advancement the public business is left to itself or some inefficient supremacy. Had Mr. Lamont ordered troops the other day instead of informing the commission of Indian affairs that he would investigate, the Jackson Hole massacre would never, in all probability, had a place in the bloody history of the west.

WHAT A MESS.
If James Kilbourne of Columbus has decided to contest the right of Paul Sorg for the Democratic nomination, there will be more fun in Springfield next month than can be put in the big barrels popularly supposed to hold the vast wealth of ambitious candidates for governor. Young Thurman is making a hard fight for his political life, and unaided he can not withstand the assaults of the senator's millions. He too must have money, and he will have it if Kilbourne, a wealthy manufacturer of Columbus, joins the movement. Then there will be feasting and rejoicing in the Democratic camp. Purple and fine linen can be dealt out with a lavish hand, for three millionaires never get into a campaign without making the money fly. Brice has been there before, and knows what it costs to keep his friends loyal. Sorg had a brief experience when he ran for congress, but Kilbourne knows nothing about it, and must be instructed. From all reports the free silver wing is competent to do that very thing, and the manufacturer will know much more about politics when the votes are counted than he does just now, while his Democratic workers will likely be in better circumstances than they have known in years. Larry Neal has not yet figured in the fight, but his meddlesome disposition will not keep him long in the background. Who knows but what he has a faint hope hidden away in the region of the upper left hand pocket of his vest.

AN INDIAN MASSAURE.

The Bannocks Murder Settlers at Jackson's Hole, Wy.

OTHER TRIBES GO TO JOIN THEM.

Utes, Lemhis and More of the Bannocks Leave to Reinforce Their Brethren—U. S. Troops Left Pocatello, Ida. This Morning For the Scene of the Outbreak.

Pocatello, Ida., July 27.—William Ross of the firm of Ross, Grey & Wyatt, has just arrived at Market Lake from St. Anthony's, and reports everybody at Jackson's Hole killed by the Indians. It is considered authentic news and excitement is intense. United States troops from Cheyenne arrived in this city this morning and left immediately for Market Lake and thence by wagon road for the Fall River country.

Conrier Sargent has arrived in Market Lake from the vicinity of Jackson's Hole. He left a companion in the country, who intended to get into the Hole, if possible, and return with all the news. He is expected at Market Lake hourly. Sargent reports all the passes guarded and is afraid his companion will not be able to obtain entrance.

M. J. Gray, L. M. Tart and Senator Hamer of Illinois, and T. R. Haner of St. Anthony, all left St. Anthony Wednesday morning on a fishing trip to Jackson's Hole, taking no stock in the Indian war. Now they are back and report every man, woman and child in Jackson's Hole murdered.

One of the couriers just returned got far into Teton basin, which is the present point in danger of massacre now that the Jackson's Hole citizens are all butchered. He reports that the smoke of a large fire can be seen several miles south of Grand Teton, in the direction of Jackson's Hole.

There is no doubt that the redskins have fired every home and cabin, and by morning they will be repeating their work this side of the Teton range, in Teton basin, and perhaps after that all down the Teton River valley in Idaho. Two hundred Utes are said to have gone north to join the Indians in Hoback basin early this week. Small parties of Lemhis have been slipping in daily across the Conant trail, something they have not ventured to do since the Yellowstone National park was enlarged in 1891.

Indian police who have returned from the Salt River valley, where the big trading powwow has been in progress for a week, say that the band of Bannock Indians, under the leadership of Jim Ballard, has started north towards the seat of trouble. If these Indians reach the belligerents in the Fall River valley before the troops get there, and they undoubtedly will, the result may be more disastrous than ever. Ballard's band is composed of the worst element of the Bannocks, a tribe that in the general run is bad enough, for they are as a rule lazy, shiftless, fighting Indians. This particular lot, however, are the redskins, spirits of the tribe, always ready for a quarrel, even in times of peace, and in the present excitement it would require much less than these 50 turbulent braves to stir to an intense pitch the already excited gathering on Fall river. The authorities at the Bannock agency have all along been congratulating themselves that Ballard and his gang were not at the seat of the trouble.

An Omaha special says: Union Pacific headquarters have been notified by the company's superintendent at Pocatello, Ida., of the receipt of a telegram from the Union Pacific agent, at Market Lake, to the effect that all the Jackson's Hole settlers had been murdered by the Indians, their stock killed and their homes burned. The agent declares that the information is perfectly reliable.

A Washington special says: Word has reached army headquarters, that General Coppinger arrived at Market Lake, Ida., the nearest railroad station to the scene of the Indian trouble, this morning, and that the troops of cavalry from Fort Robinson reached the same place this morning.

Indian Agent Teter of the Fort Hall (Ida.) Indian reservation, wired Commissioner Browning that the policemen who were sent to the Indians, ordering them to return to their reservation, report that the Indians positively refuse to return. The agent has asked permission to leave the reservation to accompany the United States troops to the scene of the disturbance. Authority for him to do so has been granted.

BOLD STREETCAR ROBBERY.
The Motorman Shot and Moneybox Seized by Bandits in Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 27.—Three masked men jumped Electric Bennis Lawrence's car, knocked him down, and demanded the moneybox, and shot him in the head. Motorman Lawrence was coming toward the center of the city with no passengers on the car. Two men jumped on the front of the car, and the other at the back. One said: "Give me that moneybox."

Lawrence said: "I want it, myself." Then he was knocked down. While he was lying on the ground, the villains shot, the ball entering Lawrence's head and seriously wounding him. It occurred within a block of an electric light, with houses around.

Cherokee Bill Kills a Guard.
FORT SMITH, Ark., July 27.—Cherokee Bill got his hands on another revolver and used it in an attempt to liberate prisoners confined in murderers' row of the United States jail. His attempt was a bold one and resulted in the death of Larry Keating, the oldest guard of the force. Bill was finally captured. His sister is supposed to have slipped the revolver to him.

Governor McKinley Will Attend.
LEBANON, Pa., July 27.—T. L. Lewis, the secretary of the Mount Gretna exposition, to be held in August, is in town, having arrived from Columbus. While there he had an interview with the well-known governor and congressman, and secured the promise of his attendance at the exposition on commercial travelers' day.

No More Seed Distribution.
WASHINGTON, July 27.—The seed division of the agricultural department will be abolished on Oct. 1.

THE SUNDAY NEWSPAPER.

Ministers Organize in Boston to Make It More Christianlike, Not Kill It.

Boston, July 27.—An effort is to be made between the press and the pulpit for the purification of Sunday reading and the enlightenment of readers of the Sunday press. With this end in view, the Newspaper Sermon association, organized under the laws of this state, has been incorporated here. The articles of the association read that the corporation is constituted for the purposes of disseminating non-sectarian and non-doctrinal religious truths by the aid of Sunday newspapers; quickening among editors and publishers of Sunday papers a realization of their possibilities and responsibilities in the spiritual and moral development of their readers; lessening church antagonism and developing in the Christian church a greater willingness for Christianity. The following are the members of the association's advisory board: Dr. George Hodges, dean Cambridge Theological school; Rev. E. A. Horton, Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Robert Treat Paine, Charles H. Taylor, John H. Holmes, Dr. George Hepworth, Rev. James B. Werner and William E. Harmon. The latter was elected president of the association.

More About Vera and Corbett.
NEW YORK, July 27.—When the hearing in the Corbett divorce case was resumed before Referee Jacobs, Jay H. Wilson, a member of the Dramatic company, of which Pugilist Corbett was the star, testified that the woman known as Vera traveled with the company as Mrs. Corbett. He also swore that Corbett and Vera occupied the same room at the Burnett House in Cincinnati, at the Park hotel in Madison, Wis., and at a hotel in Saratoga, Wis. This closed the case for the plaintiff. A motion of counsel for Corbett to dismiss the suit on the ground that the plaintiff's allegations had not been sustained by the evidence, was overruled by the referee.

Opened by the Duke of York.
LONDON, July 27.—The International Geographical congress has been formally opened by H. R. H., the Duke of York, who is honorary president of the society, who delivered an address of welcome to the delegates. Each batch of delegates, headed by the ambassador or diplomatic representative of the country from which they came, were introduced to the Duke of York, who was accompanied by Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian high commissioner, in London, and other colonial dignitaries.

Howard's Missionary Fund Growing.
NEW YORK, July 27.—The General O. O. ## DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Scarcely Any Shrinkage, but That Due In Midsummer.

IRON AND STEEL PRICES RISING.

The Feature of the Week the Startling Advance in Nails—Enormous Sales of Wool Indicate That Prices Will Not Decline—The Business Failures.

NEW YORK, July 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: It is not the season for the tide of business to rise, but there is perceived scarcely any shrinkage except that which comes naturally with midsummer heat. The volume of new business is small compared with recent months, but large enough to encourage more openings of long-closed works and more advances in returns to labor. Important strikes show that the advance is not enough for some, but the strikers seem not more threatening than a week ago.

Accounts of shrinkage in the yield of wheat came both from Pacific states and from the Dakotas. It would be a strange and unnatural July without such reports, and yet they have without enough this year to lead even the most experienced to reduce somewhat their estimates of yield while the price has advanced 3 1/2 cents. Light western receipts for the week ended a third of last year, and for the four weeks, only 5,396,083 bushels, against 11,983,619 last year, strengthen adverse reports because the price a year ago was about 20 cents lower than it is now.

The western movement largely depends on the export demand, which is phenomenally light, Atlantic shipments for the week having been, flour included, only 671,561 bushels against 3,818,996 last year, and for four weeks only 3,500,558 against 9,665,722 last year. Corn advanced about 1 cent with wheat, but has since lost all the gain. Cotton has remained unchanged at 7 cents, although the latest reports favor larger estimates of the yield, a circular by Neill going much beyond other figures.

Prices of iron and steel products still rise, the feature this week being the startling advance of 50 cents per keg in out and wire nails, with new cards for various sizes which it is stated make the advance greater than it appeared. Angles are also a shade higher and other prices slightly maintained. Bessemer pig does not advance, although the Carnegie and one other company have been buying about 140,000 tons which is supposed to foreshadow large contracts for rails. In the first half of '95, orders for rails were 713,000 tons against 502,000 in the first half of last year, and a good many small orders appear at Chicago. Otherwise there is a distinct halting in new demand, though nearly all iron and steelworks are crowded with orders for some time to come. Prospects that other furnaces with a capacity of 8,000 tons weekly in the east and as much in the south, will go into blast within the remaining months of 1895, hinders further rise in pig.

Copper has again advanced, Lake to 11 1/2, contracts having been made this month for 20,000,000 pounds. Lead and copper are both strong. Textiles have a better outlook, with larger demand both for cotton and woolen goods, a shade advance in print cloths and in most bleached goods and a more hopeful market for light weight woolsens, which, if scarcely advanced beyond last year's prices, are on the whole selling better. Enormous sales of wool, 44,778,864 pounds in four weeks, against 29,220,250 in 1892, far exceed actual consumption, but reflect belief that the prices will not decline, and the few changes this week have been upward. Scarcity of domestic wool in eastern markets is in part due to heavy speculative withdrawals.

Failures for the week were 202 in the United States, against 249 last year, and 27 in Canada, against 39 last year.

Allow Only Populists to Teach.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 27.—A strange case is reported from Lincoln county, where the Populists are in power. The Populist board of education has refused to grant certificates to any but Populist schoolteachers, and three Democrats and four Republicans, who passed examinations, getting averages near the 100 mark, have been refused certificates. Lawyers have been consulted, but they aver that the board is all powerful in the premises, and that there is no recourse at law.

Great Britain Will Protest.

LONDON, July 27.—The correspondence of The Times at Alexandria informs that paper that at a funeral of a British soldier in Cairo, a mob of natives hooted and stoned a military detachment for half a mile and mobbed the chaplain. Great Britain will demand satisfaction.

Drouth Broken In Iowa.

DUKE, Ia., July 27.—An extraordinary rain has broken the drouth. Nearly two inches fell in one hour. Rail stones as large as walnuts broke glass and did much damage. The flat portion of the city was flooded.

Slippery Tables have come to stay.

FRANCE ACTING STUBBORN.

No Answer to Two Demands In the Case of Ex-Consul Waller.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The officials of the state department were at present anxiously awaiting information from Ambassador Eustis as to the manner in which the second demand for the record of the Waller courtmartial, which was held in Tamatave, has been received in France. It is now learned definitely that the French government refused to furnish the record upon the first presentation of the request, and that this refusal was met on the part of the state department by a more positive and pressing demand for all the papers. The department is informed by Mr. Eustis that this demand has been presented to the French authorities. There has been quite sufficient time for a reply, but none has yet been received.

The supposition is gaining ground that France's refusal to furnish the record is due to a desire not to give publicity to revelations made in the letters from Waller, which were intercepted by the French authorities concerning the misconduct of some of the

EX-CONSUL WALLER.

French soldiers. In letters which have been received here from Waller within the past few days he reveals the fact that in his letters to his wife he informed her of various outrages committed upon the native women of Tamatave, and gives such a circumstantial account of these proceedings as to reflect on the French soldiery in Madagascar, in a way which the French authorities might not desire to be published to the world.

There is good reason for believing that in a case of a second refusal by France to supply the record, a third demand will be made, which will be peremptory. The state department authorities consider the case as one of importance, because it is liable to develop some very delicate and intricate questions before it will be finally disposed of. Secretary Olney feels that it is a matter of gravity, as did the late Secretary Gresham.

To Keep His Sweetheart's Grave Green.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 27.—Jack Webb, an old miser farmer, living near Webb, Ala., has been found dead in bed in his lonely cabin. Hidden in the bottom of an old trunk were found $4,000 in cash and a will. The will stated that the money should be expended in keeping fresh the grave of Frances Stewart, his sweet-heart, who died 50 years ago, upon the day of their wedding day. Webb had forsaken the society of his fellowmen after her death and lived alone in a house constructed near her grave, which he cared for during life.

Peary's Former Secretary Arrested.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Warrants have been taken out for the arrest of Walter T. Swain, on the charge of swindling. Swain was a member of the Peary expedition to the North Pole, which left Philadelphia in June, 1893. Lieutenant Peary picked up the young man in Brooklyn and made him private secretary. Swain was rescued with the rest of the party last year by an expedition of which Prof. T. C. Chamberlain of the Chicago university was a member.

Brazil Should Be More Aggressive.

LONDON, July 27.—A dispatch to The Times from Rio Janeiro, says that protests against the landing of the direct Argentine cable, on Trinidad island, are already being made. Deputy Pechanas' motion was adopted unanimously in the chamber, urging the government to face the British aggression with more energetic and spirited declarations on Brazil's disputed rights.

Had Been Assaulted and Murdered.

BOSTON, July 27.—The body of Albert Strada, a 14-year-old school girl, who disappeared from her home at 89 Myrtle street, has been found in the Charles river. Medical Examiner Harris has found evidence that she was criminally assaulted, and it is believed that she was thrown into the water while unconscious.

A Cashier's Murderer Hung.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—William Frederick, who murdered Cashier William A. Herrick in an attempt to rob the San Francisco Savings Union bank in March, 1894, has been hanged at San Quentin.

The Weather.

COLOR LINE DENIED.

G. A. R. Negroes Will Be As Welcome as Whites.

LOUISVILLE PEOPLE INDIGNANT

At an Article Printed in a Cleveland Paper, Written by a Colored Man of Their City—They Declare All Such Statements Maliciously False.

COLUMBUS, July 27.—J. H. Milliken, director general of the G. A. R. arrangements at Louisville, says in a letter to G. A. R. men here that all statements regarding the proposed drawing of a color line at the national encampment against negro ex-soldiers are absolutely false.

In the letter he says: "I have your favor of the 23d making inquiry concerning the article, which appeared in the Cleveland Gazette regarding the color line being drawn in this city. The writer of this article is a young colored fellow, son of one of the principal teachers in the colored high school in this city. His father is at a loss to know why he should have written such an article. His father and mother are both members of the accommodation committee and have a deep interest in the success of the encampment to be held in this city."

"There is not one grand truth in the article, and it deserves what it is receiving, the universal contempt of this entire city. Both white and colored are pronounced in their denunciation of such an article in the face of the efforts that are being made by both white and colored people to make the encampment in this city a memorable occasion. Colored comrades will be quartered with the white comrades in the school-houses, if the latter desire, or they will be quartered in schoolhouses by themselves, just as it is desired, but the same preparation has been made for one as for the other. No discrimination has been made."

"As far as their taking part in the parade here is concerned, that, you know, is not in our province, as we have nothing in the world to do with it. I beg that you will denounce this article on every hand and wherever occasion offers itself as maliciously false, and by so doing receive the grateful thanks of the citizens' committee."

Susan B. Anthony Fainted.

SANDUSKY, O., July 27.—Upon taking her seat, after delivering an address at the Lakeside assembly, Susan B. Anthony was seized with a fainting fit. She quickly recovered and is in good health and spirits. Her efforts on the platform and the heat were alone the cause of her temporary illness.

A BLOODY BENCH.

One Found on Which Holmes Is Thought to Have Dismembered His Victims.

CHICAGO, July 27.—One of the important finds made by the police in their search of the Holmes house is a bench covered with stains resembling blood. The bench was found in a deserted storeroom next to the apartment in which Pat Quinlan, the gambler, slept. The police were in doubt as to the nature of the stains and an analysis will be made.

Dr. Robinson, who was called to examine the stains on the bench, said that they were undoubtedly blood. It is believed by the police that Holmes used the bench as an operating table, on which he dismembered his victims before disposing of their bodies.

Chief of Police Badenoch has put Pat Quinlan and his wife through another severe examination. It is believed that the pair can give sensational evidence if the case can be made to talk, and Quinlan will be kept under police guard. Quinlan is accused of making away with a girl he got into trouble, whom he says is in Omaha. She lived with him at Holmes' place until his wife appeared on the scene. A search will be made for her.

A Lafayette (Ind.) special says: Emeline Cigraide, reported a victim of Holmes, is well known here. She went to Dwight, Ill., in 1891, where she was stenographer. Later friends were informed by her that she was with the A. B. C. Copying company of Sixty-third street, Chicago, and was soon to marry the manager, Robert E. Phelps.

According to the statement of Jonathan L. Belknap, an uncle of Holmes' wife, it was Christmas night, four years and six months ago, that Mrs. Julia L. Conner was killed. He believes she was asphyxiated in her room while she slept. When she died was accomplished, Holmes stealthily admitted himself through the secret door of the bathroom. He lifted the inanimate form of Mrs. Conner from the bed and carried it to the bathroom. Then, placing the body in the bathtub, he proceeded to cut it into pieces and fed them to a fire in the stove. Then he took the ashes and parts that had not been entirely burned and buried them in a mass of quicklime in the cellar.

A girl named Kitty Kelly has also been added to Holmes' victims, making the number 11.

PLEASED WITH THE ARMY.

General Schofield Returns From His Visit to Different Posts.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—General Schofield, commanding the army, has returned to Washington from his tour of inspection of army posts in the west and northwest and his trip to Alaska. The general was absent from the capital over two months, and during that time inspected between 20 and 30 army posts. He is very much gratified at what he saw, and has nothing but words of commendation and praise for the army. In speaking to a reporter he said he found affairs everywhere in a very satisfactory condition.

The troops, he said, are in excellent shape, good discipline prevails, they are very efficient, very thoroughly equipped and are ready for service at a moment's notice. The army is higher in tone, and it is composed of better material than ever before. The army posts where the men are stationed are generally in excellent shape, though in some cases there is a lack of money to provide properly for their equipment. As a rule, everything at the posts is in perfect order.

A Train Captured by Tramps.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—A gang of 35 tramps boarded a few miles from this city, a train on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railway. When the train, which was a freight, stopped at Gray's Ferry, the tramps swarmed into the cab of the engine and compelled the engineer to go on. They then attacked the crew with clubs, coupling pins and other weapons and drove them to the rear end of the train, after which they looted the complete contents. Meanwhile the police of Wilmington had been notified, and when the train reached there, 26 of the tramps were arrested and locked up on a charge of trespass.

Mt. Union's Faculty Scored.

ALLIANCE, O., July 27.—College circles here are stirred up by the report that Inspector Hiestand, in his report to the secretary of war, secured the faculty of Mt. Union college for dilatoriness regarding the military department and recommends the withdrawal of the detail and instructors. The faculty will now go after Hiestand. The cadet officers and President Marsh will send a reply to the war department.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mrs. Green, the aged mother of Reverend Green, East End, is ill.

Christian Metsch is on the improvement list and recovering from his late illness.

Mrs. Hard, whose dangerous illness was noted in the NEWS REVIEW of yesterday, is improving.

The rain did its usual work of cleaning the hill streets, great quantities of dirt and rubbish being washed toward the river.

A local merchant said that he made $4,000 yesterday in an hour, and when a friend asked him for the secret he simply remarked that he changed the tabs on his goods.

Harvey Tissott, who has long been engaged at the Holings Electrical works, has secured a position in Cleveland, and will move there with his family next week.

Two ball clubs, captained respectively by Lawrence Allison and Walter Young, played in the East End last night, the score being 18 to 3 in favor of the Allison nine.

An effort will be made on the part of the bicycle club to have a party attend the Lisbon races, making the trip on wheels, and surprising the county seat by a superb parade.

Doctor Marshall and wife arrived in the city this afternoon. The doctor will preach in the First Presbyterian church tomorrow morning. A Christian Endeavor rally will make up the evening service.

The man who got up late last night and wandering through the grass turned on the lawn sprinkler awoke this morning with a start, and as he glanced through the window the iron entered his soul.

F. V. Risinger is moving his bicycle establishment today, and the club boys will have their new quarters early in the week. A parade is mentioned as one of the principal features of the dedication.

Yesterday was a particularly dull day on the street car line, although Friday is always found wanting in the way of travel. One car came from Wellsview square to Second street in this city without a passenger.

Charles Dougherty, formerly a member of Company E, will camp this year with the Fourteenth Pennsylvania. George Beggs, at one time sergeant of the same command, but at present employed in a Pittsburg shoe house, will also be in camp.

The trolley wire fell at Lythe's early this morning and passengers were transferred. Another transfer was necessitated later in the day by the tearing up of the main tracks, where the new switch is being put in at the power house.

A small boy whose home is on the Calcutta road mourns the loss of a dog poisoned last night by some one who did not like it. The dog was not a beauty nor was it noted for good blood, but it was that boy's only companion and toy.

Charley Kelly has in his possession two lilies, the prettiest seen in the city for many a day. Florists know the flower as the auratum, and admire it for its exquisite coloring, and inordinate size. The specimens owned by Mr. Kelly are the finest of the kind.

Yesterday was not a moneymaker for the street railway company, some cars making the trip without a passenger. One car came from Wellsview last night had only two fares marked on the indicator, but it picked up a solitary passenger in the Diamond, the others leaving it at that point.

"Cracker" Davidson and "Dude" Rowe, the youngest champion bicycle riders of the city, will race tonight from the East End to Orr's, on Sixth street, where a handsome gold medal awaits the winner. The medal represents the ten-year-old championship of the city, and will be hotly contested.

J. H. Jones, of Pittsburg, is in the city placing the elevators in the new building of the Thomas company, which is rapidly nearing completion. The structure is at once among the best looking and most complete in the city, having been designed for the quick handling of the company's manufactures.

A potter who keeps his eyes open told a reporter today that this year would see marked improvement in the quality of American ware put on the market. Never before have there been so many attractive and artistic shapes, and never was better ware made than at present. Every effort is made to meet English goods, and if it will not prove successful the end of the string has been reached; but they expect it to be successful.

No paper published on earth makes more breaks than the poor weekly Tribune, but it fairly outdoes even its laughable errors this week. In mentioning the samples of water submitted for chemical analysis it says that the "Diamond well sample is not as good as the other two by reason of a wrench with which the hinges were moved from the outer door." What in the world does the poor idiot mean? Has the warm weather turned his little brain to sawdust?

ing Services.

Will Hanlon and Doctor Denslow,
Pittsburg, are at the dormitory.
Reverend Henthorn, of Bridgeport, who has been at the camp ground for several days, returned home last night.

Services in the big tent attract large audiences, and last night there was an unusually long and interesting meeting. Doctor Huston preached the sermon, Doctor Burt and Reverend Walker each added their testimony to his words.

MASHED THE MONKEY.

A Drunken Individual Wanted to Kill
the Little Thing.

A stir was created on Third street
by the brutal action of a plain drunk who hates monkeys. An organ man and the monkey stopped in front of his house, and the little thing was sent in for a penny. With an oath the fellow struck it a blow with his fist,
and then wanted to kill it with a hatchet. The police could do nothing for the Italian when he complained,
and he went after the humane society
determined to have the man arrested.
After hunting for an officer in vain
he decided to leave town.

WANT WORK.

West Virginia Farmers Are Anxious to See the Bridge Built.

The farmers are anxious to see the work started on the bridge. Harvest is over, and many of them have idle teams and grown boys on their hands
without work to keep them in form.
They can supply an army of men and horses, according to one of their number, and this anxiety to begin work is spreading throughout the district.

Fake Ads.

A well known young man who is out of employment at present saw an ad.
in a local paper recently saying that "lady and gentleman agents were wanted," and signed "J. H." He went to the office of the publication
and was told that the party lived in the city. When he proposed calling on the advertiser
the man who talked with him hastily said he guessed he didn't live in town
—in fact he didn't know where he lived nor who he was. But if the young man would leave his application somebody might call at the office. The young man did so. That was a week ago.
He has not yet heard from it yet and does not hesitate to say that he thinks the ad was a fake and put in to fill up the much puffed up "want column."

A Liverpool Opinion.

A Pittsburg paper is searching for views on the political question, and publishes the following from a Liverpool man:
"Matthew Stanley Quay can get votes and votes to make his heart glad in this 'neck of the woods.' The Buckeye state can truly appreciate the splendid services he has rendered to the country. We have often wished we could have had a Quay in the last state senate. We all feel the condition of things would be very different today in East Liverpool. I have a poor opinion of any Pennsylvania voter who could forget the eminent services he has rendered to his state in congress."

An Inquest of Lunacy.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.
Lisbon, July 27.—Judge Young is in Pittsburg today for the purpose of holding an inquest of lunacy on Mrs.
James Hamilton, an East Palestine

there for some time. She has relatives in Liverpool.

A marriage license was today issued to George B. Gorsuch and Miss Minnie Selson, East Liverpool, and Fred
Unig and Miss Ida Schadd.
Matters seem dead about the court house. Officials come and officials go, but there is no news. Court matter has almost reached its end, and no
new cases were filed today.

A Tip to the Bosses.

Those East Liverpool Democrats
who held a convention Wednesday evening and declared in favor of sound money will find a warm time in the county convention at Wellsville when they come to face those Democrats from the rural districts who have been reading the Ohio Patriot the past three months. The followers of Brother Potts have not been living on a free silver argument for nothing.—

Found No Law.

An intoxicated individual appeared at city hall this morning. He wanted to see the mayor, but finally condescended to talk to an officer.
"I'm hunting law," he said.
"What for inquired the officer?"
"Why I gave a man 10 cents for a drink of whisky and he didn't give me
any change.
And the man hiccupped, winked
his eye and walked away.

company than he filled in this city.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Callouette, druggist, Beavers-ville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dosed began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold.
We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at T. L. Pott's

THE BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

Hard Work and Indigestion go Hand in Hand.

Concentrated thought, continued in, robs
the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor.

When a five horse-power engine is made to do ten horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hard-worked man coming from the field or the office will "bolt" his food in a few minutes which will take hours to digest. They eat many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a keg of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break," because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood,
finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man attempts to find rest in bed.

The application of common sense in the treatment of the stomach and the whole system brings to the busy man the full enjoyment of life and healthy digestion when he takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to relieve his bilious stomach or after a too hearty meal, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood. The "Pellets" are tiny sugar-coated pills made of highly concentrated vegetable ingredients which relieve the stomach of all offending matters easily and thoroughly. They need only be taken for a short time to cure the biliousness,
constipation and slothfulness, or torpor,
of the liver; then the "Medical Discovery"
should be taken in teaspoonful doses to increase the blood and enrich it. It has a peculiar effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, toning up and strengthening them for all time. The whole system feels the effect of the pure blood coursing through the body and the nerves are vitalized and strengthened, not deadened, or put to sleep, as the so-called caloric compounds and nerve mixtures do
—but refreshed and fed on the food they need for health. If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, nervousness, and any of the ills which come from impure blood
and disordered stomach, you can cure

DUNRAVEN'S NEW YACHT.

Valkyrie III Is Very Fast and Will Give the Defender a Race.

The few racers of Valkyrie III, Lord Dunraven's challenger for the America's cup, demonstrate plainly that she is a better boat than either the Britannia or the Alisa, the best two yachts on the other side, and as Valkyrie III will surely cross the Atlantic to race for the old cup the Defender will at least know she has been in a race if she succeeds in keeping the famous trophy on this side of the Atlantic.

In her second race with her two great rivals, Valkyrie III, as is known, was beaten, although if the time of each yacht
at different points in the race be examined
it will be seen that the challenger lost a few minutes in the early part of the race,
and then, despite the experimental jockeying on the part of the skipper, she held her own to the end. This led to the inference that Dunraven had "something up his sleeve," and his boat's subsequent races have demonstrated the correctness of this theory. Valkyrie III has literally smothered Britannia and Alisa. In every class of sailing and with almost all possible wind conditions, Alisa has on one or two occasions gained a trifle in long reaching, but this may have been due to capricious currents of air.

In Valkyrie III the old English model of the cutter has been altogether abandoned. Lord Dunraven's yachts, built to VALKYRIE III.

contest for the America's cup, have more and more approached the typical American yacht in build and rig. Britannia, Alisa and other new yachts have followed his lead in this particular, and Valkyrie III is utterly unlike the typical English cutter which we had been told was the highest type of naval construction.

The Defender and Valkyrie III are exactly the same length on the water line,
but Valkyrie III will spread one-tenth more canvas than her American rival.
The Defender, while being six inches deeper in the water than Lord Dunraven's new yacht, has nearly four feet less of beam and is nearly three feet narrower than the Vigilant. Valkyrie III displaces 155 tons of water and the Defender 143 tons.

The new English yacht is of composite construction, while the Defender has been built of manganese bronze and aluminum. The Defender when she has all sail spread will expose a canvas surface of 10-400 square feet, and the sail area of Valkyrie III is 11,600 square feet.

The wetted surface of the Defender is 2,700 square feet, and in this she is exceeded by 100 square feet by Valkyrie III.
It will therefore be seen that for each foot
of wetted surface the Defender has a sail area of 4.03 square feet, and Valkyrie III of 4.14 square feet. Relatively the sail spread of the English yacht is thus greater than that of the Defender, and this would give her an advantage in a light breeze
and place her at a disadvantage in a blow.

THE DEFENDER IS READY.

She Cost a Fortune and Will Probably Meet Dunraven's Valkyrie III.

The Defender, the handsome bronze and aluminum yacht that has been built at an expense of fully $150,000 to defend the America's cup, is now in racing trim and will meet the Vigilant and other yachts in contests to determine which shall sail against the English cup challenger, Valkyrie III, in September. The Defender is a keel boat, 124 feet over all and 89 feet on the water line, draws 19 feet of water and is 34 feet beam. Her sail area is nearly 12,000 square feet. She is plated with manganese bronze below the water line
and with aluminum above.

The Boston Journal says the Defender is sure to be fast in light air and in running. These two points seem to be the

THE DEFENDER.

Valkyrie's favorites, so that the two boats
will put up a splendid contest in light winds. The measurement of the club topsail will not be far short of 2,000 feet. To sum up the comparison between the two boats, both will be the fastest light air boats ever built, both will run well, both are quick in stays, but—and here comes our chance—Defender is better to windward and is stiff in a breeze, while Valkyrie is tender. In heavy weather the cup ought to remain here, and in light air—
well, the stars alone can tell.

GENERAL SPORTING NOTES.

The successful eastern tour of the plucky University of California athletes cost the team $3,500.

E. W. Goff, the all around champion of 1894, has given up athletics entirely and has taken to bicycle riding.

M. O'Sullivan, the ex-champion all around athlete, has decided to give up athletics. He is a policeman now.

Lord Dunraven is thoroughly satisfied that the Valkyrie III is better than any yacht before built in Great Britain.

Yale will ask Cambridge to omit the proposed three mile run when the rival colleges meet. Yale athletes never run three miles.

Ex-Chess Champion Steinitz is so confident that he can defeat Champion Lasker in a return match that he offers Lasker the odds of a game. In refusing to give Steinitz a second match after having agreed to do so Lasker lost the sympathy of most chess players.

WELLESLEY'S FAIR COACH.

Miss Lucile Hill, the Bob Cook of the Famous College For Women.

What Miss Lucile E. Hill does not know about rowing would fill a very slim pamphlet and would make very little show whatever in a book. She is in charge of the department of physical training at Wellesley college, and her particular fond is rowing. She is a young woman of ideas and enterprise and introduced rowing at Wellesley about four years ago. She believes that a girl with a sound heart and strong lungs should have an opportunity to enjoy all the sports that men indulge in, and that of those sports one of the most enjoyable and beneficial is rowing.
Every girl at Wellesley who is strong enough and desires to do so may go in for rowing, and there is great rivalry among the numerous candidates. The freshmen usually have two or three crews on the water to struggle for the honor of being the class crew, and the important question is decided each year upon "float day,"
the great annual aquatic event at the college. Miss Hill each year visits several of the colleges where rowing is practiced to perfection, and not long ago she was the guest of the Yale crew at New London.
She is a cousin of Captain Fred Johnson

got 'em, and most of the managers signed contracts for those that the actors hadn't got, and now there is darkness on the subject and nothing more. "Sardou," said a manager recently, "has almost exhausted his popularity in this country. The absolute failure of 'A Woman's Silence' in both New York and London injured the playwright very considerably. It showed folks that their idol was but clay. And 'Gismonda' did not help him very much.
It was an excellent play of its kind, but people had tired of the kind."

A GREAT BOY BICYCLIST.

Michael Is Only Eighteen, but His Pe-
formances Are Truly Marvelous.

The appellation of "little wonder" that has been given to J. Michael, the Welsh man, is by no means an empty compliment, as his recent performances in Paris have been nothing short of marvelous and have secured for him the reputation of being a sort of infant phenomenon. He has only just entered his eighteenth year and looks about six years younger. Short and MISS LUCILE E. HILL.

of last year's Yale crew, and this year the Yale style of rowing—the Cook stroke—is in high favor among the fair devotees of the sport at Wellesley.
